

Blues Builders

Youth Jam and Blues Band

Ozark Blues Society of Northwest Arkansas announces a new opportunity for the young musicians of Northwest Arkansas. Blues Builders is our new blues based youth jam and band.

Who: Blues Builders is open to all young musicians from beginner level and up. Musicians should know music basics on their chosen instrument. Participants must be under 21 years of age.

What: Blues builders will be offering several different opportunities for young people to grow in their appreciation of blues music. Open jam sessions will be held one or more times per month depending on interest. Monthly workshops will be held which focus on improving skills and increasing creativity. Future sessions may explore blues History. It is the hope of Ozark Blues Society that a youth performance band that can partner with the society in their vision of "keeping the blues alive" in Northwest Arkansas will form from this program.

Where: The group will begin meeting in Fayetteville at the home of Ozark Blues Society volunteers, Roy and Sandy McCann, 1680 N Viewpoint Dr. Future meetings will move to a larger location if deemed necessary.

Upcoming Events:

November 30, 2006, 7-9pm: Informational Meeting and jam session

December 28, 2006, 1-5pm: Winter break jam

January 13, 2007, 1-5pm: Blues Guitar Workshop

(Parents are welcome at all activities)
